

A Sticky Situation: Cyberbullying - Episode 5

The sticky situation: You and your friend go online, and your friend starts making fun of another student in your class. At first you think it's harmless, and although the student asks them to stop your friend continues. What do you do?

For the adult: Discuss this with your child or teen and write a few sentences about how one should effectively resolve this sticky situation.

For the child: Draw and write a short comic using the ideas from the discussion and words above to resolve the sticky situation.
