

2022-2023 Gundersen Health System Hematology/Oncology Fellows

PGY 4

Michael Lehner, MD

BA: Purdue University (Biomedical Engineering)
MD: McGovern Medical School at the
University of Texas Health Science Center
Residency: McGovern Medical School at the University of Texas Health Science Center

Dr. Michael Lehner is one of the Hematology/Oncology fellows. In his free time, he enjoys smoking Texas-style barbecue and spending time with his cats and golden retriever.

Aquino Williams, MD

BA: SUNY Farmingdale
MD: St. Georges University
Residency: Hackensack University Medical Center

My favorite quote is "Life is but a dream, within a dream". I chose Gundersen because of its small-town feel, combined with an academic/university like setting approach. Everyone here is extremely passionate and compassionate which is a great combination when trying to understand these pathology hematology-oncology. While being here, I very much feel that this is a place that fuels and inspires growth while being surrounded with kindness coupled with support.

PGY 5

Yacki Hayashi-Tanner, DO

BA: New York University (Biochemistry)
MD: Hunter University (Genetics)
DO: Western University of Health Sciences,
Northwest Campus
Residency: Gundersen Health System

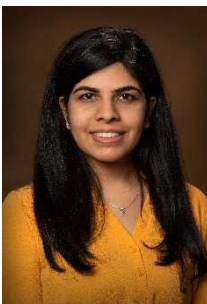

Dr. Yacki (pronounced Jacki) Hayashi-Tanner is a New Yorker who fell in love with the Driftless Area. She enjoys adventures with her husband, baby girl, and dog. Her primary interests include GI/GU oncology and malignant hematology.

Emily Westergard, DO

BA: Colorado College
MD: Lincoln Memorial University -
DeBusk College of Osteopathic Medicine
Residency: Abbott Northwestern Hospital

Dr. Emily Westergard is a second year Hematology/Oncology Fellow. She enjoys running, biking, exploring the Coulee region, watching documentaries, and cuddling with her Goldendoodle, Alvin.

PGY 6

Shivani Kapur, MD

BA: B. J. Medical College, Pune, India
MD: B.J. Medical College, Pune, India
Residency: Gundersen Health System

My favorite quote is "Love the life you live; Live the life you love". What I love most about Gundersen is the supportive environment and the people I work with. I enjoy being just a few minutes away from the Mississippi River and love to go on walks on the Riverside.

Matt McGee, MD

BS: University of North Dakota (Psychology)
MD: University of North Dakota School of Medicine
And Health Sciences
Residency: University of Iowa Hospitals & Clinic

Dr. Matt McGee is a third year Heme/Onc fellow. He enjoys golfing, exercising, and checking out different restaurants and breweries. When he has the time off, he also travels to various parts of the country visiting family and friends.
